THE WASHINGTON STATE DERMATOLOGY ASSOCIATION is proud to host the Pacific Northwest Dermatological 83rd Annual Scientific Conference. This meeting is an outstanding educational opportunity for Dermatologists, Dermatology residents, and ARNP/PAC's practicing in Dermatology.

PNWD is far and away the most cutting-edge scientific meeting in our region, featuring nationally and locally acclaimed speakers highlighting a variety of disciplines ranging from cosmetics, pediatrics, skin cancer diagnosis & treatment to physician stress management.

Through a charted course of lectures, networking and brainstorming with your colleagues, you will discover practical information and scientific updates critical to improving your patient care.

Course Location

Cle Elum, Washington

With more than 6,000 acres of forested mountain landscape, sun-dappled meadows and rushing rivers, Suncadia Resort in Washington offers a wealth of year 'round activities—perfect for a Pacific Northwest vacation with your family or a group. Miles of hiking and biking trails. Thirty-six holes of mountain golf. The 2.2 million acre Wenatchee Washington National Forest right next door. Plus, outdoor concert and cinema series, nature programs, fine dining, cafes, swimming, spa treatments and shopping. As Washington State's premier mountain retreat and family vacation destination, the activities are as varied as people's moods and interests—there is something for everyone.

Target Audience

The intended audience for this course is practicing dermatologists and dermatopathologists, dermatology residents, dermatology nurse practitioners and physician assistants.
